Winnifred Farmers Want Better Roads.

H. Flett of Winnifred and E. Lancaster of Prosper make strong representations to Provincial Ministers at Medicine Hat Convention -- but get little encouragement.

The farmers' convention held at Medicine Hat on Tuesday was attended by a large number of representative farmers from all over the district. The government was represented by Acting Premier Hon. Charles Mitchell, Hon. Duncan Marshall and Hon. A. J. McLean.

H. Flett after presenting two petitions re road work for Winnifred, remarked that he had been in the Winnifred district nine years. In the first few of those years they had not expected much, but in the last few years they had not, he believed, received much for the money expended. "It looks like one dollar spent for each 25 cents worth of work," said Mr. Flett. "I believe that the trouble is this: infertile patronage system. It belongs to the feudal days and we should get away from it."

"The road foreman who is sent out finds probably not more than 20 per cent of the bad places. The road inspector takes a party man with him, and the party man picks out the party workers and consults them. I doubt if the minister knows how great this abuse is. I know an instance where $100 was paid for three days' work, and another instance where $250 worth of work was done and only $100 paid. The road inspector appoints a foreman, who scatters the patronage around a little. A farmer may work 12 hours a day on road work, but the government obtains an estimate of the number of days worked, and the local man is not fully paid for the work done. They may tell us that we should organize under the Municipality Act. Last year we made a canvass, and in all but one case got more signatures than the government asks, but we were not made a municipality. We are paying six to seven thousand dollars taxes in five townships, but can't get the work done. This is not mere kicking. These are facts. We are willing to compromise, but not to stay where we are in this matter."

Ernest Lancaster presented the petition from the Prosper district, and said representatives of the Prosper district have just one thing to talk about. "We have other needs, but this one thing is the greatest -- the difficulty of crossing the Forty Mile Coulee."

Acting Premier Mitchell, after some introductions, remarked: "I heard vigorous representations made this morning, and I may say that most of it is news to me. Some of the criticisms are matters of years' standing for some of which the government might be blamed, but some are merely local grievances, and surveyed in the light of the affairs of the country as a whole do not seem so important. Therefore I come with no apology so far as the administration of roads or anything else is concerned. I have completed 20 years here and I believe that I know better about some of these matters than do some of the men presenting them. I have travelled all over this district with sometimes as much discontent as any farmer has experienced and I have probably covered more miles in the Medicine Hat district than anyone else here. Nevertheless I am glad to have heard these representations, with the result that when the minister of public works goes back to Edmonton I will be better able to impress on him the needs of this district."

"So far as the Winnifred district is concerned, I am not going to worry much. In past years Winnifred has had its full share of government expenditures, and much money has been spent on a trunk line from Bow Island to Medicine Hat. You may say that this does not help the farmer to get his grain to the market, but he has no complaint there because there was no tax on him to build that."

Mr. Mitchell stated that while it was in much the same situation concerning roads as Winnifred. Both places needed attention, but the work would be expensive. Orion, Mayberries and Elkton had had much done, but Nemiskam and the south-eastern part of the district had something coming.

Local and General

The ladies of the Women's Institute will hold a war food sale at the rest room on Saturday, June 1st. Tea and sandwiches will be served. This is to take the place of the dinner previously arranged.

The United Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Oliver, Thursday, May 30. This will also be the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society recently organized. Meeting opens promptly at three o'clock.

Mrs. Maude McWilliams is attending a conference of constitutional conveners and District Directors at Calgary this week.

This meeting is for the purpose of completing a satisfactory organization and discussing important plans in connection with the work of the Institute.

Mass will be celebrated at St.
Michael's on Sunday June 2nd, at 11:30.

Beyond the fact that "Doc" has bought a pig and a change is contemplated in the "movies" there is nothing especially startling this week.

The consumer sometimes grumbles at the price of beef but if he were to see the cow bought by A. W. Fuller this week and was then told that it cost $138.50, he would probably concede that the butcher has troubles also. Beef is extremely scarce just now and it is only by following the example of the military authorities and doing some careful combing that meat is discovered at all.

Miss Pearl Smith, sister to Mrs. T. R. Blaine, arrived last week from Boston and will take up her residence here for a time.

Mr. A. C. Russell accompanied Rev. C. Bishop to Medicine Hat this week to attend the district meeting of the Methodist Church.

Miss Robertson of Claresholm demonstrator for the Women's Institute, arrived here last week to give demonstrations in sewing.

Mr. and Mrs. Newsom were visiting their married daughter in Taber last week.

Mrs. R. H. Robertson was the guest in the country of Mrs. A.
Gragg for a few days last week.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pippard died at their residence on Saturday last. The funeral was held the following day (Sunday), a short service being held in All Saints' at 3:30 p.m., and at which there were quite a number of sympathisers.
The Rev. Mr. Herring officiated.
The internment took place in the Bow Island cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Pippard desire to those who are interested in the funeral service of their little daughter last Sunday, and at the same time to express their keen appreciation of the many expressions of sympathy offered.

The canvass made in town and country last week in behalf of the local branch of the Red Cross was a very successful one.
Indeed, and Mr. Robertson, equally with his assistants, is to be heartily congratulated upon the ready response recorded in the country. The ladies making the canvass in town are to be equally commended, their multiple efforts doing much to make the Red Cross practically self-sustaining. Altogether, the total sum realised amounted to $746.55. In addition there were fine memberships.

Lost—A black and dark green

A very pleasing little function took place on Wednesday evening in the United Church when a presentation took place of a fountain pen to Mr. Russell Shawcross, George Muller and Frank Nevers, all of whom leave shortly on military service. A similar present was also given to Mr. and Mrs. De Few for their son who is now overseas. Rev. C. Bishop made the presentation. At the same time an auto stop razor was presented on behalf of the Sunday school by C. H. Bell to Geo.
Muller. There was a large number present, and the short musical program and light refreshments served after were much enjoyed.

The town secretary (W. A.
Batonian) has had a conversation over the phone on Thursday with the department of municipal affairs at Edmonton, and he was informed that the matter of electing a Town Council at Bow Island would have the attention of the department at a meeting to be held on Saturday.
Instructions would probably reach here about Monday or Tuesday.

J. Pollitt and A. F. Wells were in Lethbridge Tuesday on business.

The departmental examinations for grades VIII, IX, X, XI, and XII will be held this year June 17th to 20th, at among other places, Bow Island and Grassy Lake.

U. S. FACTORIES
ARE COMING

And the Canadian Customs Tariff
The Lever Which Forces Them To Our Side of the Line

In a long letter dated at Medicine Hat, Alberta, on February 17th, Mr.
Norman Lambert, a staff correspondent of the Toronto Globe dwells on the fact that American business men sell quantities of United States factory products in the Canadian prairie provinces, but he adds:

"When the manufacturer of the United States says that he can get such a large proportion of the rapidly increasing trade of western Canada, abstracted as it is by tariff restrictions. It is an easy guess that he will come over here and compete harder than ever for business by actually manufacturing his products on the side of the wherever it is possible to do so. Western Canada is rapidly finding itself. The interest which is being shown by the manufacturer of the United States in western Canada is distinctly righted to the interest which has been shown by his farmer brother."

Industrial Opportunities

To quote the correspondent further:
"That American capital is soon expected to take advantage of the industrial opportunities in western Canada was borne upon one's mind very much more forcibly after looking about Medicine Hat and the immense quantities of Redcliffe, which is situated only six miles west of it. During the past year separate industrial enterprises, representing an invested capital of $175,000, and of that amount only $60,000, are invested in the bulk of it, and the United States. In fact, the man who induced industries to go to Redcliffe is an American. He founded the plant here years ago, because the water was to be found there, and he knew that it would not be difficult to secure an industrial concern at Redcliffe. Medicine Hat also during the past year has seen eight new industries located within its boundaries, representing investments of from $1,000 to $100,000 each, the total amount of invested capital being in excess of the very handsome sum of $1,000,000. The new capital of Medicine Hat's new capital is also of American origin. At Calgary, too, since a branch from Minneapolis, investing two million dollars for the purpose of manufacturing textile engines, and another concern across the border again, in a hundred thousand dollars in a brick and clay products plant."

Where is Jack Canuck?

The Globe man continued:
"This industrial development is illustrated graphically on the cover page of a special factory edition which The News of this city will publish this month. The artist pictures All Medicine Hat standing before long, fairly, benevolent-looking (that 'em, whose hat she holds in her stretched hands, and into which the old gentleman is pouring building and dollars. John Bull is shown in the distance, hurrying forward, the prairie with a bulge in the air in each hand. But in where, even on the factitious horizon to be seen a sign of young Jack Canuck."

In this track testimony three points are worthy of special emphasis:
(1) The Toronto Globe's editorial opinion admits that the nation's policy of moderate protection is contrasting American industries to establish important branches in a number of strategic points on the Canadian prairie. In this way centres of population are created which markets for the nation's booming factories."

(2) British capital is following the American lead.

(3) Eastern Canadian manufacturers are also taking advantage of the great opening made for them by the already great and rapidly developing western market.

Warren Overpack has purchased the Pulp Mill Company's plant, Medicine Hat, Alberta, and will greatly increase its capacity by extending and installing new machinery. When completed it will have a capacity of 160,000 bricks per day.

The shareholders of the Alberta Rolling Mills Company have increased the capital stock from $100,000 to $200,000. The increase will be used to make further additions to the present plant.

It is stated that Mr. Felix Frank, Principal Albert, Sask. will erect a factory to produce nitrous oxide and other chemical substances, which would employ 2,000 workmen.

The William Galinsky Co., Waterloo, Iowa, U.S.A., has purchased a site and will erect an agricultural implement plant in St. Boniface, Man.
The Great Trunk Pacific Railway will erect a storehouse here, costing $1,000,000, in Regina, Sask.

Why Trade Blankens

Business was slack. But Jones, the barber, hearing a customer's immediately bled himself with a razor sharp.

His spirits dropped, however, when informed that the man wanted more than to have his hair trimmed.

"Have yourself don't you, sir?" he inquired, as he snipped the hair round the customer's eyes.

"How you know that?"
"No barber would turn out a job like that in these hard times. Besides, we might as well stop up shop if everybody shaved themselves."

"Perhaps," murmured the customer indifferently, adjusting the towel round his neck.

Jones snipped and cut in silence, but after a few moments broke out again in an agitated tone of voice:

"To be in business, sir, you, sir? Well, suppose no barbers ever bought of you, how would you like it?"

"Shouldn't mind," answered the customer offhandedly. "I sell enough grapes!"

Faith and O'Leary

The Rev. Father O'Leary was off to catch the Dublin express. On the way to the station he ran into his bachelor.

"Well, what's the hurry, O'Leary?" said he.

"Sure, it's the Dublin express I'm after, your honor!"

"That bishop pulled out his gold watch. 'Well, there are seven minutes past; let us walk together and both catch it.'"

"They arrived at the station just in time to see the train steaming off."
"Do you know, I had the greatest faith in that watch, O'Leary," said the bishop.

"By all means, what is faith without good works?" replied the angry O'Leary.

Pat Was Ready

An Irish soldier on duty had orders to allow no one to smoke near his post. An officer with a lighted cigar approached him, however. Pat boldly challenged him, and ordered him to put it out at once. The officer, with a gesture of disgust, threw away his cigar, but no sooner was he back turned than Pat picked it up and quickly retired to the sentry-box.

The officer, happening to look round, observed a beautiful cloud of smoke coming from the box. He at once charged Pat for smoking on duty.

"Smoking in my sentry-box, and I'm only keeping it lit to show to the corporal when he comes as evidence that you!"

But He Didn't Come Again

The appetite of the guest was a keen one, and he was doing full justice to the food. The little daughter of the house watched him open-mouthed for a while, then, finally, she smiled at him brightly and said:

"Oh, I do wish you were here, to know every day."

The guest bowed with satisfaction.
"Do you, my dear? Why?" he inquired.

"Because," came the unexpected reply, "there won't be anything else to eat to-morrow."

Arist to Stand Up

"Indeed," the lecturer went on, in a quizzical way. "I believe I am justified in asserting that nine women out of ten are practically prepared to the men they become engaged to. As a looking at all married men in the audience whose wives virtually peeped the question to them to raise."

There was a subdued rustle in the auditorium, and in the dense silence that ensued could be heard almost inaudible whispers in concert, "Was you dare stand up?"

Three Courses

Irish Harriett (addressing the Bachelors): "Your honor, I shall first solemnly prove to the jury that the plaster could not have committed the crime by which he is charged.
If that does not convince the jury, I shall show that he was insane when he committed it. If that fails I shall prove an alibi."

Mrs. Deane (addressing the Bachelors): "Your honor, I shall first

the crime by which he is charged.
If that does not convince the jury, I

Harry Emerson has received word from home that he is required to report for military service at once.

Repairs effected at the Burdett Hotel since the recent fire have again placed this hotel in a thoroughly serviceable condition. Mr. Brown has gone to considerable expense in refitting the rooms and those who have been accustomed to stopping here will find the new conditions satisfactory in every way. It has since been learned that the damage caused by the fire reached over $1000.

Mrs. H. S. Bird left on Monday to visit friends in the east.

One of the largest deals ever put through in this district is now being arranged, and probably within the next few days announcement will be made of its completion. The deal includes the purchase of five and a half sections of land, lying about fifteen miles south of Burdett, the selling price being twenty-five dollars per acre. Mr. Walter Stronacher of Rochester is conducting the purchase on behalf of a large syndicate and the sale is being arranged by Mr. O.G. Routledge of Syracuse N.Y., both of whom arrived here this week and after making an inspection of the land are staying in town a few days to make the final arrangements. It is the intention of the new purchaser, we understand, to break 3000 acres this year, and sow 1000 acres to flax. Mr. E. Brown will probably get the contract to supervise the work. As a further indication of the interest shown in farm lands around Burdett it may be of interest to mention that Mr. A. H. Rygg is now endeavoring to locate 20,000 acres in this vicinity in behalf of some outside parties.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lord arrived from the east recently to take up their permanent residence here. Mr. Lord has accepted a position in Fletcher and Sons' general store.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Swartz will take over the management of the Burdett Hotel commencing with June 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will probably reside in the country.

Millard Brown, who it will be remembered was recently seriously injured in an auto accident, has now sufficiently recovered to return home. He is still very weak, but it is hoped that with a strong constitution he will soon regain his former good health.

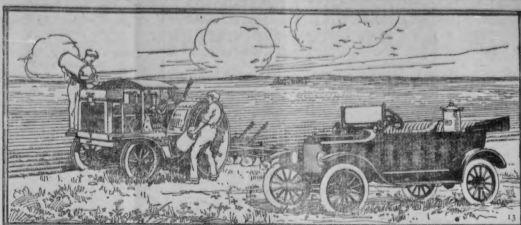

K. Brown received on Monday a number of binders, and is now busily engaged in filling orders.

The ladies of the L.D.S. had a meeting this week at the residence of Mrs. W. O. Lyons.

Mrs. Brunsdale sen. with her little daughter left on Tuesday for Rochester.

Mrs. Floyd Mason of Calgary with her children has been spending the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Anderson.

W. D. Paterson's two children were taken to the hospital at Taber on Sunday suffering from pneumonia. Mrs. Paterson will remain in Taber for a while to attend to them.

The Ford is Now Considered a Necessity for Large-Scale Farming

WHETHER you are doing work on a large scale, or a small scale, you endeavor to reduce the delays of your farm machinery to a minimum and save time. A Ford will assist you in doing these two things.

If your tractor runs short of gasoline, the Ford will bring a few cans right to the spot and greatly shorten the delay. Or if you need a repair, or some new plow points, you can "run" the errand to town and back in one-third the time it would take with a horse and rig.

With a Ford you can supervise the work on your ranch much more thoroughly. You can get your mail and supplies oftener, and take more enjoyment out of prairie life. A Ford will do all these things and many more, and at the same time save you money.

The strength and endurance of the Ford has been proved the world over. It is equal to the western roads and the distances.

The Ford is the car for the Western Farmer.

A new platform is being laid down here by the C.P.R. at their depot. This would seem to indicate that the railway company has at last recognized the fact that there is quite a heavy passenger traffic at Burdett, and possibly we shall not have to wait very long now for that night service.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent on Monday at Mrs. A. W. Fletcher's when a few friends gathered there to help entertain Mrs. Brunsdale previous to her departure for Rochester.

W. Maxwell is making quite a few repairs and alterations at the local pool-hall and when they are completed he will have added considerably to the attractiveness of the building.

Bow Island, June 13th - 19th

May be had of any of the business houses.

IONIAN SERENADERS AT CHAUTAUQUA

The Ionian Serenaders are to give two concerts on the opening day. This splendid company is made up of four young women who sing, read and play with unusual ability. Perhaps the most interesting feature of their program is the revival of the accordion as a concert instrument. The numbers given on this fine old instrument are always highly appreciated, and deservedly so, for in the hands of these talented young players it becomes a veritable symphony orchestra.
